

A writer who said
that bad language
equals bad politics.

POWER

What do you think?

What do you think about the life that I live?

No matter how much I took, I always found something to give.

No matter how much I live, I wonder how I would get killed.

Is everything I face a dream? Or could I all be real?

What do you think about how I look?

With all the stereotypes making up lies just to put in books.

Or the cops that claim they're clean, but inside they're all crook and still free from the INNOCENT lives they took.

What do you think about a teen from the projects?

I'm just another number and citizen for the white government prospects.

I was young and hard up in New Orleans making money selling drugs.

While my friends were getting knocked off the earth like bugs.

And they said it was all 'LOVE'

What do you think?

THE REST WILL FO
ARN RESPECT

Black POWER

CRIME

