

Viewing Guide for Native Achievement Initiative Video:

- How do you see these educators embodying a culturally responsive perspective in their work? Reference the statements on the Conceptual Map on the "Learn More" tab if helpful.
- How does what these teachers are doing with students and families fit into our paradigm for transformational teaching as outlined on the TAL Impact Model?
- From the information you have, what do these teachers seem to believe and understand about their students, families, school, and community? How do these beliefs and this knowledge influence their practice?
- Is there evidence of these teachers' personal identity or experiences influence their teaching practice? How might teachers who are not Native American or who come from non-Native communities practice a culturally responsive approach in this setting?
